

Importance of girl's education for Sustainable Development

Jyoti Panchal Mistri

Abstract

Educating a boy is educating a man, whereas educating a girl is the same as educating a nation. This statement is completely true. Many surveys and studies around the world show that educating women is most beneficial in terms of children's health, community well-being, and building long-term success for developing countries. Education is a whole world of opportunities for a girl to find her own solutions to various problems related to her life. Through education, she finds herself the solution of various problems related to her life like being financially dependent, deciding the meaning of her independence, choosing better and right options for life, satisfactory solution to the problems related to or related to family or social issues. Finding, and most importantly standing up for your rights, reducing the crimes against you and guiding your children to the future, making them self-confident,

Key words; Self-confident, rights, financially dependent, success.

Objective.

1. The main object of this research paper to find out the value of education for overall growth of girls.
2. Find out the main goal of girl education.
4. To show the importance of education.
5. Women education is very important for the development of a country

Introduction

At present there are many such problems in the society whose only reason is illiteracy, an educated woman can take the right decision for her family, she can develop her children properly, an educated woman has an important role in taking important decisions related to their future. Because children are the future of tomorrow. It is normal for the father to be educated, but it is also necessary for the child to educate the mother because every child is closer to his mother and every decision taken by an educated woman helps in making the children's future bright. Women's education should not be seen as just a problem, but with understanding the positive aspect associated with it, it is necessary to emphasize on the solution and campaign to remove female illiteracy, in which the important role is definitely the family society that administration. It is the responsibility of the administration to make proper arrangements related to the education of women. It is the responsibility of the administration to make proper arrangements related to the education of women and of course they should consider it as a challenge to women's education to make 100% of women's education, considering it as an important need of the society. Literacy and education which includes higher education should be given importance by running it as a campaign. Steps need to be taken now for the education of women, the foremost among them is that every member of the family should feel the responsibility that the education of the daughters of their family should be the first priority for them, if women education is taken as just a work by every family. If I don't look at me and start being seen as a responsibility, then surely the problem like women and education can be eliminated from the country. There have been a lot of changes in the education of women in the present than before, but the need is that these changes should be accelerated and women education campaign should be run faster in rural areas than in cities, so that women are self-reliant for their families. Women's education plays an important role in furthering economic development.

Object of girls/women education in substantial development.

Women, who make up half of the world's population, have benefited more than men from the progress in economic and social development in the last three decades. Nevertheless they continue to be overrepresented among the world's most vulnerable groups, as access to resources and power remains highly skewed towards men. Gender equality is a goal in its own right but also a key factor for sustainable economic growth, social development and environmental sustainability. By providing the same opportunities to women and men, including in decision-making in all kinds of activities, a sustainable path of development can be achieved to ensure that women's and men's interests are both taken into account in the allocation of resources.

The education of girls today's widely recognized agenda for the world's concern. It is one of the finest investment for any century to educate and empower the female sector in philosophy manner. Women are the foundation of life, they are creators, nurturers. They play very multiple and critical roles in family and society, their education acts as a gringboard for sustainable development. A cost benefit analysis has revealed that women education has enormous social returns. Education play vital role or overall sustainable development, it allows every human being to acquire the knowledge, skills, attitude & values which is necessary to shape future and powerful enhancement towards the betterment of life.

Achieve general equalities and empower all women and girls; In this including equal access to primary education between girls and boys. In major scenario women and girls continue to suffer discrimination and violence in every part of the world. So this is kind of issue which considered and work on them carefully. Gender equality is not only fundamental human right but a necessary foundation for peaceful and sustainable development

Ensure inclusive and quality education for all and promote lifelong learning; Basic literacy and skill have improved the mandatory in overall development women and girls achieve better position with education and skills guidance, its improve their talent and craft to showcase family

End hunger, poverty and achieve food security while improved nutrition value:

Poverty in ability to attain minimal standard of living measure in terms of basic consumption needs or the income required. There are 795 million hungry people world wide. This translates into one out of nine people undernourished. In all the cause overcome by educating and by learning to women they are great contributors to feeding then men are. Proper guidance and better access to relevant information helps to reduce poverty and improve nutrition value

Ensure better hygiene and sanitization: More than 50% of all schools lack access to adequate sanitization facility, also lack of gender specific toilets in undeveloped area, when girls enter puberty they miss up to 40 days of school or education period due to menstruation in single academic year because of not proper facility of toilets and sanitization. Which leads to drop out of school and totally creates disadvantage of their ability to achieve their full potential, it impacts physically and mentally as well we ensure proper facility to girls in school and public places for their comfort space to their dignity.

Knowledge is the most valuable thing, it is need of the values and valuable things, education makes women powerful also they educate and generous on society in wholesome a nation become powerful.

A study entitled Literacy and Education for Sustainable Development and Women's Empowerment explores how and why literacy programmes can contribute to sustainable development and processes of women's empowerment. This paper argues that only by looking in depth at literacy learning and development practices can we begin to address the challenge of narrowing the gender gap in literacy attainment.

UN Women acts to promote equality in education through the revision of school curricula and policies to counteract gender discrimination, and equal access to vocational education and training as well as information technologies.

The main Targets are:

Ensure that all girls and boys complete free, equitable and quality primary and secondary education leading to relevant and Goal-4 effective learning outcomes.

Ensure that all girls and boys have access to quality early childhood development, care and preprimary education so that they are ready for primary education.

Ensure equal access for all women and men to affordable and quality technical, vocational and tertiary education, including university.

Eliminate gender disparities in education and ensure equal access to all levels of education and vocational training for the vulnerable, including persons with disabilities, indigenous peoples and children in vulnerable situations.

Ensure that all youth and a substantial proportion of adults, both men and women, achieve literacy and numeracy.

Ensure that all learners acquire the knowledge and skills needed to promote sustainable development, including, among others, through education for sustainable development and sustainable lifestyles, human rights, gender equality, promotion of a culture of peace and non-violence, global citizenship and appreciation of cultural diversity and of culture's contribution to sustainable development.

Build and upgrade education facilities that are child, disability and gender sensitive and provide safe, nonviolent, inclusive and effective learning environments for all.

Substantially increase the number of youth and adults who have relevant skills, including technical and vocational skills, for employment, decent jobs and entrepreneurship.

Substantially expand globally the number of scholarships available to developing countries, in particular least developed countries, Small Island developing States and African countries, for enrolment in higher education, including vocational training and information and communications technology, technical, engineering and scientific programmes, in developed countries and other developing countries.

Substantially increase the supply of qualified teachers, including through international cooperation for teacher training in developing countries, especially least developed countries and Small Island developing States.

Conclusion:

There are numerous issues that proved girls from fulfilling their rights to education in this various forms are exist social and gender norms to financial business and harmful traditional practices, for many girls and young women around the world to going to school is merely a dream. It is very peaceful step to provide education to girls and women is not only responsibility of nation, society but at individuals level consider this as a fundamental right which gives equality to all the children women also take initiative for their education. Government should make a plan and policies for women education statements, facilities for their education including NGO's and Trusts work as freelancer in women education, industries and corporates to CSR in education and skill providing facilities for women and girls.

It is important that all developing countries step up their commitment to give quality education to women as this will speedup the achievement of selected sustainable development goals.

References

- <https://sustainabledevelopment.un.org/index.php?page=view&type=400&nr=549&menu=1515>
<https://uil.unesco.org/literacy/women/literacy-and-education-sustainable-development-and-womens-empowerment>
www.worldvision.com.au/womens-empowerment
www.ericsson.com/en/about-us/new-world-of-possibilities/pioneering-a-sustainable-future
<https://en.unesco.org/themes/education-sustainable-development>

Asst professor
 Institute of law and legal Studies
 SAGE University Indore (M.P.) India